Allison Flanagan

Since September 2017, Allison Flanagan has served as the Director of the Florida Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. She moved to Florida from Kentucky in May 2017 to serve as the Deputy Director of the Florida Division of Blind Services (DBS). Prior to joining DBS, she was the Executive Director for five years of the Kentucky Office for the Blind. In addition to her experience directing a state agency and implementing policy and operational goals, she served as an online instructor for her alma mater, the University of Kentucky, where she holds a master's degree in Rehabilitation Counseling. This year Director Flanagan is serving as President-elect for the Council of State Administrators of Vocational Rehabilitation. Allison has been a public servant since she began her state career in Kentucky in 1993. She has three daughters and one grandson.
